A bold affirmation that we are sentient before conception and in the womb, The Secret Life of Babies reveals author Mia Kalef's groundbreaking findings: babies are able to remember their earliest experiences, this consciousness precedes the physical development of the brain itself, and medical interventions during birth—like forceps and Cesareans—can imprint our relationships with the world and disconnect us from our sustainable place in the ecosystem. Kalef provides a six-step protocol for detecting these individual imprints and taking reparative steps for physiological and emotional balance and release. This book offers us an articulate guide to a transformation that can restore our essential nature.

- The author studied with don Juan Matus and the same circle of Nagual sorcerers who taught Carlos Casteneda.

1998 it seemed that these practices might never be revealed, but fortunately Marilyn Tunneshende has stepped in. Set against the backdrop of the golden deserts of Sonora, Mexico, Don Juan and the Art of Sexual Energy recounts Tunneshende's initiation into the ancient sexual energy practices of the Toltec-Mayan tradition. Under the tutelage of don Juan Matus, Chon Yakil (whom Castenada referred to as Don Genaro), and dona Celestina de la Soledad, she learns to reclaim her feminine power and balance the masculine and feminine forces within herself. At the heart of the book is the mythical Rainbow Serpent: the phallic energy within women, the creative power within men. Each chapter focuses on a particular technique for awakening the serpent and connecting with its energy. Twenty-two sequential practices are covered, providing a powerful program for serious spiritual transformation. Dream Cards are beautifully rendered cards featuring the art of world-renowned fusion artist Rassouli and best-selling author and dream expert Kelly Sullivan Walden. They're based on the 53 most common dream symbols among modern dreamers and filled with innovative and ageless wisdom. A powerful tool to assist everyone in tapping into their dreaming mind or subconscious (which scientists say comprises 88 percent of our capacity), these cards will interpret your life and fulfill your wildest dreams. They're valuable and fun for all, whether you're in the living room, bedroom, boardroom, or private sanctuary. Einstein attributed his theory of relativity to accessing his dreaming mind while awake, and Freud said that dreams are "the royal road to the subconscious." As Kelly says, "Dreams are love letters from home written in our first language—that of the soul—communicated in pictures, stories, and metaphors."

Through continuing practice with the Sphere of Art and the Two Sensitive Points unique and powerful changes of consciousness and subtle energy are experienced. Hundreds of new Tarot decks have been produced in the late twentieth century, many of them based on the structure and images of Arthur Waite and artist Pamela Smith's Rider-Waite deck (1910). The continuing popularity and influence of the Rider-Waite deck makes it a standard for identifying, categorizing and analyzing contemporary Tarot and other meditation decks. This work of art history analyzes such decks in relation to conventional art styles and movements, including Symbolism, Surrealism, the modernist "grid" and the low/high value hierarchy, and postmodern art movements and concepts such as the dissolution of the modernist value hierarchy, Pattern and Decoration art, and collage. It also examines them in relation to literary concepts, including the novel, utopias, and popular genres. The author's analysis is supported by numerous illustrations, including the Rider-Waite major arcana cards juxtaposed with examples of their counterparts from more recent decks.

The world today is faced with the gravest dilemmas of all time. Every major system is beginning to disintegrate. This global phenomenon is happening across social, political, financial, religious, environmental, and moral lines. The artificially masculine - that contrived patriarchal and oligarchic paradigm in which we currently live - is in large part responsible for this breakdown. This book, the third in the series, examines the role that the renewed respect for and acceptance of the Divine Feminine integrated with the true Divine Masculine will play during this age. It also delves into the science and esotery behind the Mayan calendar, our progression of consciousness as a species, and their implications for humanity's post-2012 existence as our solar system moves into the next 26,000-year Mayan calendar astronomical cycle known commonly as the Aquarian Age.

Miss Bianca is a white mouse of great beauty and supreme self-confidence, who, courtesy of her excellent young friend, the ambassador's son, resides luxuriously in a porcelain pagoda painted with violets, primroses, and lilies of the valley. Miss Bianca would seem to be a pampered creature, and not, you would suppose, the mouse to dispatch on an especially challenging and extraordinarily perilous mission. However, it is precisely Miss Bianca that the Prisoners' Aid Society picks for the job of rescuing a Norwegian poet imprisoned in the legendarily dreadful Black Castle (we all know, don't we, that mice are the friends of prisoners, tending to their needs in dungeons and oubliettes everywhere). Miss Bianca, after all, is a poet too, and in any case she is due to travel any day now by diplomatic pouch to Norway. There Miss Bianca will be able to enlist one Nils, known to be the bravest mouse in the land, in a desperate and daring endeavor that will take them, along with their trusty companion Bernard, across turbulent seas and over the paws and under the maws of cats into one of the darkest places known to man or mouse. It will take everything they've got and a good deal more to escape with their own lives, not to mention the poet. Margery Sharp's classic tale of pluck, luck, and derring-do is amply and beautifully illustrated by the great Garth Williams.
